

Hello,

I am a multidisciplinary designer; professionally caring about, form, function, context, consistency, details & simplicity. Personally I care about emotions, honesty, design, music & poetry.

In my 12 years of experience, my focus has been crafting great products, solving real world problems, building and mentoring design teams. I have always given undivided & acute attention to detail. Being a great team player & self motivated guy, I believe I could be an ideal candidate for this opening.

Please do visit nimkarkedar.com where I have written about me, my work and play. I write on design and philosophy. I have also given presentations and shared various insights into product building in design conferences & workshops.

Please find my attached resume for your review and would welcome a chance to speak with you soon.

Yours sincerely,

Kedar.
